Where science meets consciousness...

Medical Intuition and Symbolic Diseases: Science and Experience

workshop with Larry Burk M.D.

What if your most troubling symptom is an invitation to go on a healing adventure? Is your body attempting to get a message to your conscious mind by expressing a deeper understanding from your soul that something is out of balance in your life? We pay a large price when we ignore these symbolic signals from our bodies. What if there is an emotional psycho-spiritual component to your illness that can be addressed by simple, safe, and inexpensive mind-body-spirit self-healing techniques? If so, it might be valuable to go on a quest to explore the mysterious story your body is telling you.

This workshop will begin with insights about the symbolism of diseases obtained from experiences with medical intuitives who are able to access knowledge about the root energetic causes of illness. Cancer is as an example of a disease where blocked emotions may play a role along with other factors such as genetics and environmental toxins. Frozen shoulder and sinusitis are two of the other common symbolic illnesses. The first half of the workshop will conclude with an experiential exercise to explore the metaphors related to symptoms and use EFT to create new healing metaphors.

In the second half of the workshop we will start with a brief review of the scientific literature and the criteria for certifying medical intuitives from the American Board of Scientific Medical Intuition. Fortunately the use of intuition in medical diagnosis is a skill that can be learned through the process of imagery. We will do a partnered exercise in which we will utilize intuitive body imagery to tune in to diagnoses for remote patients. We will spend time discussing the results obtained from the exercise as well as case reports from previous workshops and from professional intuitives.
