HEALING THE HUMAN BEING

With Phillip Scott, M.A., E.M.T.

Traditional Medicine People are recognized throughout the world as wounded healers. They harness the energy, wisdom and Medicine gleaned from their wounds, pain and adversities for the purposes of healing themselves and others. All of us are wounded- that is part of the journey. The quest is to discover the necessary tools to nourish, purify and heal ourselves- to transmute the poisons and toxins of our thoughts and actions into personal strength and integrity. Drawing upon ancient practices from a variety of indigenous traditions, learn potent methods to heal ourselves in order to be of greater service to the whole.

Of mixed Ancestry and thrice struck by Lightning, Phillip Scott has walked the Native Path for over thirty years, learning from and sanctioned by traditional Medicine/Holy people, tribal Spiritual leaders, Wisdomkeepers and Elders from several Indigenous cultures. Annually Sundancing in the Lakota tradition for over two decades, he is a Ceremonial leader, entrusted to share Indigenous wisdom and traditional healing practices with the contemporary world. Interviewed both nationally and internationally on radio, television and for newspapers, his life, experience and writings have been featured in journals and books. In addition to directing and teaching the programs at Ancestral Voice - Institute for Indigenous Lifeways in Northern California, which he founded in 1994, he maintains a private healing practice, performs Ceremonies, conducts intensives, gives lectures and leads pilgrimages worldwide. He is skilled in survival and primitive technologies, has received a Masters degree from Naropa University and is also a licensed EMT.
