

Decode Your Life Purpose

*workshop with Richard Unger

Director of the International Institute of Hand Analysis

Like an acorn containing within it a picture of the oak tree it may someday become, each human has an imprint of their life purpose encoded in their unique and unalterable fingerprints.

Doctors study fingerprints as a DNA map for disease detection, psychiatrists use fingerprint analysis to better understand autism and schizophrenia, the Navaho People say, "The Great Spirit breathes in the breath of life and the tracks of that breath become our fingerprints." DNA imprint or Great Spirit's breath tracks, anyway you look at it, our Blueprint for Life is at our fingertips.

Richard will discuss the medical research into fingerprint formation and how this correlates with soul psychology and life purpose; what life purpose really is, and how knowing your unique life purpose brings a greater sense of meaning and fulfillment into your life.

In this Saturday workshop you will study your own fingerprints to decode your Life Purpose, using a combination of lecture and workbook exercises.

Richard Unger founded the International Institute of Hand Analysis in 1985 and currently serves as its Director. Institute programs focus on Life Purpose identification and include a Year-Long Certification Training, Graduate Programs and Life Purpose Support Groups. He is one of the foremost authorities on hand analysis in the world today. His unique system of Life Purpose Analysis is the culmination of fifty years of intensive research including the reading of over 60,000 pairs of hands. Richard has merged his own experience with an exhaustive study of the medical literature on fingerprints to create a specific and accurate assessment tool that has been useful to business, therapists and individuals. He has presented his Life Purpose Analysis System in the U.S., Canada, and Europe in lectures, workshops, and on radio and television. Richard is the author of LifePrints: Deciphering Your Life Purpose from Your Fingerprints.
